IS NEW YORK CITY SAFE FOR UNPROTECTED GIRLS?

Prominent Clubwomen Discuss Question Following Pathetic Note Written by Girl Who Shot Herself in Hotel.

"It is really deplorable that a girl cannot get along honorably in New York. In some things I might have succeeded had I conceded to wishes of men, cultured (?) usually, moneyed (?) usually, but minus morals. Death

This message, from the letter of the beautiful young woman who attempted suicide in the women's waiting-room of the Hotel Asier, was commented upon yesterday by a number of prominent clubwomen of New York, who discussed the temptations that beset young women thrown upon their own resources and seeking a livelihood in New York.

MRS. GERARD DANCKER,

That was also my own experience when I came from the West. I felt that nobody here would disturb or insuit me. Men here are more gallant toward women, and instead of harming them, they actually help harming them, they actually help the working girls and encourage them to succeed.

The little girl who shot herself in the Hotel Astor perhaps had attenuated sentimental notions. She probably did not understand. She was up in the clouds. The mere fact that she attempted suicide proved that she was not right mentally. Hers is not the experience of most girls in New York. I think if a canvass were made of the working girls here, it would be found in New York is as safe a city for them as any in the world. There may be another side to this woman's story.

It is a hard thing for a woman to have to earn her own living in this city. A great many good women have had terrible experiences. Great temptations are thrown in their way weathers the temptations and goes through the experience of earning her own living in New York. No one can approach the character of the girl who does this.

The Federation of Women's Clubs, of which I am a director, realized doing its utmost to protect working girls who are thrown upon their own resources and compelled to earn their own iiving. My heart is with the young girls who have to go out and and face the battle of life in New York. The women's clubs all feel the same way about the situation. MRS. EDWIN ARDEN, President of Twelfth Night Club.

No one has the right to commit suicide. There can be no provoca-tion for such an act. This poor girl, for whom I feel the greatest compassion, perhaps was not strong enough mentally and physically to stand the awful strain of business life. It is a tremendous strain for a woman to earn her own living in this city. A tremendous effort must be put forth. No woman should attempt it unless she has great physical as well as great mental and moral strength. Young girls who do not understand conditions in this big city are bound in their intent, and kind toward women. But evidently this girl did not understand the environment and became discouraged, whereas another girl with a different temperament could meet the temptations and overcome them and make a success of her effort at self-support.

I think it all depends upon the temperament of the individual. I do not think New York is any worse for women with nost other cities. But the girl who comes here to seek her own living must first get the New York point of view. MRS. BELLE DI RIVERA, President Federation of Women's Clubs. here. Undoubtedly conditions here are bad. When a woman undertakes to earn her own living the men she comes in contact with present a certain temptation. It is difficult for the girl to resist. It is hard for the average woman to earn her own living here. The only girls who are fitted to work and go out in the world unprotected are the ones who have been trained in trade from early youth. The girls who come from the domestic home into the business life of New York with the idea of earning a living are subjected to great datger.

The experience of this young woman is very terrible. It shows conditions in New York in their most tragic form. There are hundreds of cases of girls in New York who have had simflar experiences and who have been disillusioned about conditions. But they have not gone to the extreme of suicide.
"There is no doubt that New York is a very dangerous place for the young girl who comes from outside and is unfamiliar with conditions MRS. JOHN S. CROSBY,

President of Women's Democratic Club. New York is a pretty good old town. The men here are fine types, and the girls have more profession from them than they have in most cities. Elsewhere in this country there is no effort made to help the girls. In New York they actually get a helping hand. We had a little girl friend who came from Nebraska. She stopped in Chicago for a year to study music and then came on to New York to complete her education.

She said to me: "Mrs. Cosby, I feel as if I could go any place in New York at any time. In Chicago I would not dare to cross the street alone. The at-In New York I feel perfectly safe."

PASTOR RAILS AT HOBBLERS.

GROVEVILLE, N. J., Aug. 3.—Rev. Peter Henry, pastor of the First Reformed Church, of this pilace, nas refused admission to his church to any woman who wears a "hobble" skirt, and has denounced from the pulpit those who have adopted this style of dress. He terms girls and women who wear them as "walking balloons," "lunatics," and "godless." He says the style is a travesty and asserts girls and women who wear such skirts should be "spanked."
